Campaign A on Instagram Drives Strongest New Customer Growth

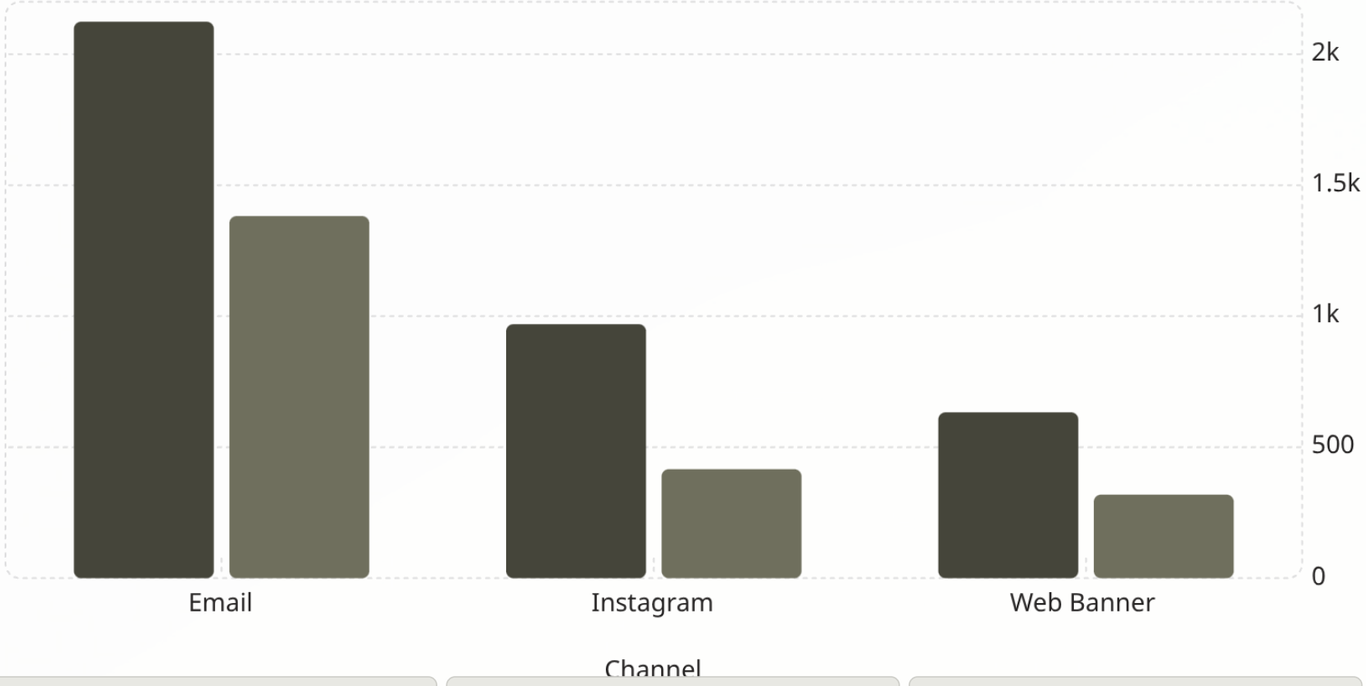
Recommendation: NewCo should prioritize Campaign A on email to maximize new customer acquisition, as it combines effective messaging with a high-reach channel.

Key Insights: New Customer Acquisition

A deeper dive into new customer sales reveals that while Campaign A on Instagram shows strong performance compared to Campaign B on the same channel, it is not the top performer for new customer acquisition overall.

Campaign A

Campaign B



Email Dominates

Email channel drives the most new customer sales for both Campaign A ($2,124.47) and Campaign B ($1,382.38).

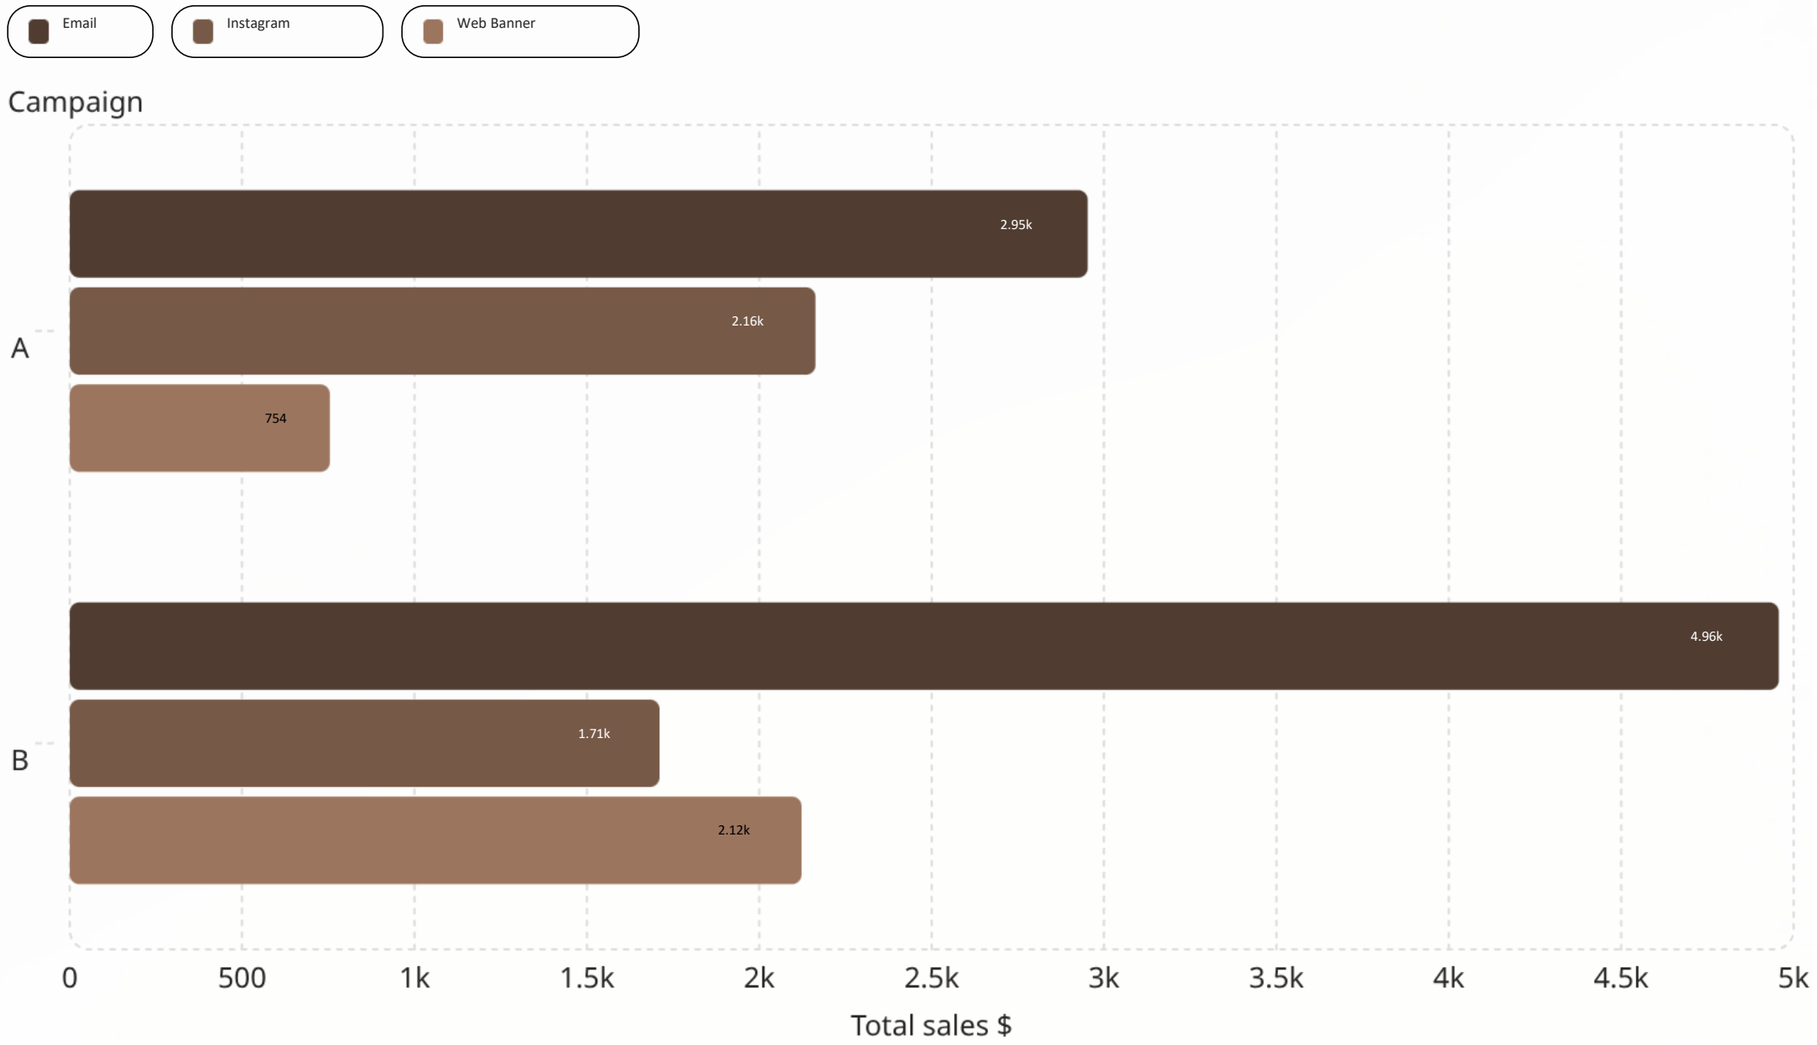
Instagram's Role

Instagram is effective, with Campaign A ($969.46) significantly outperforming Campaign B ($416.14) on this platform.

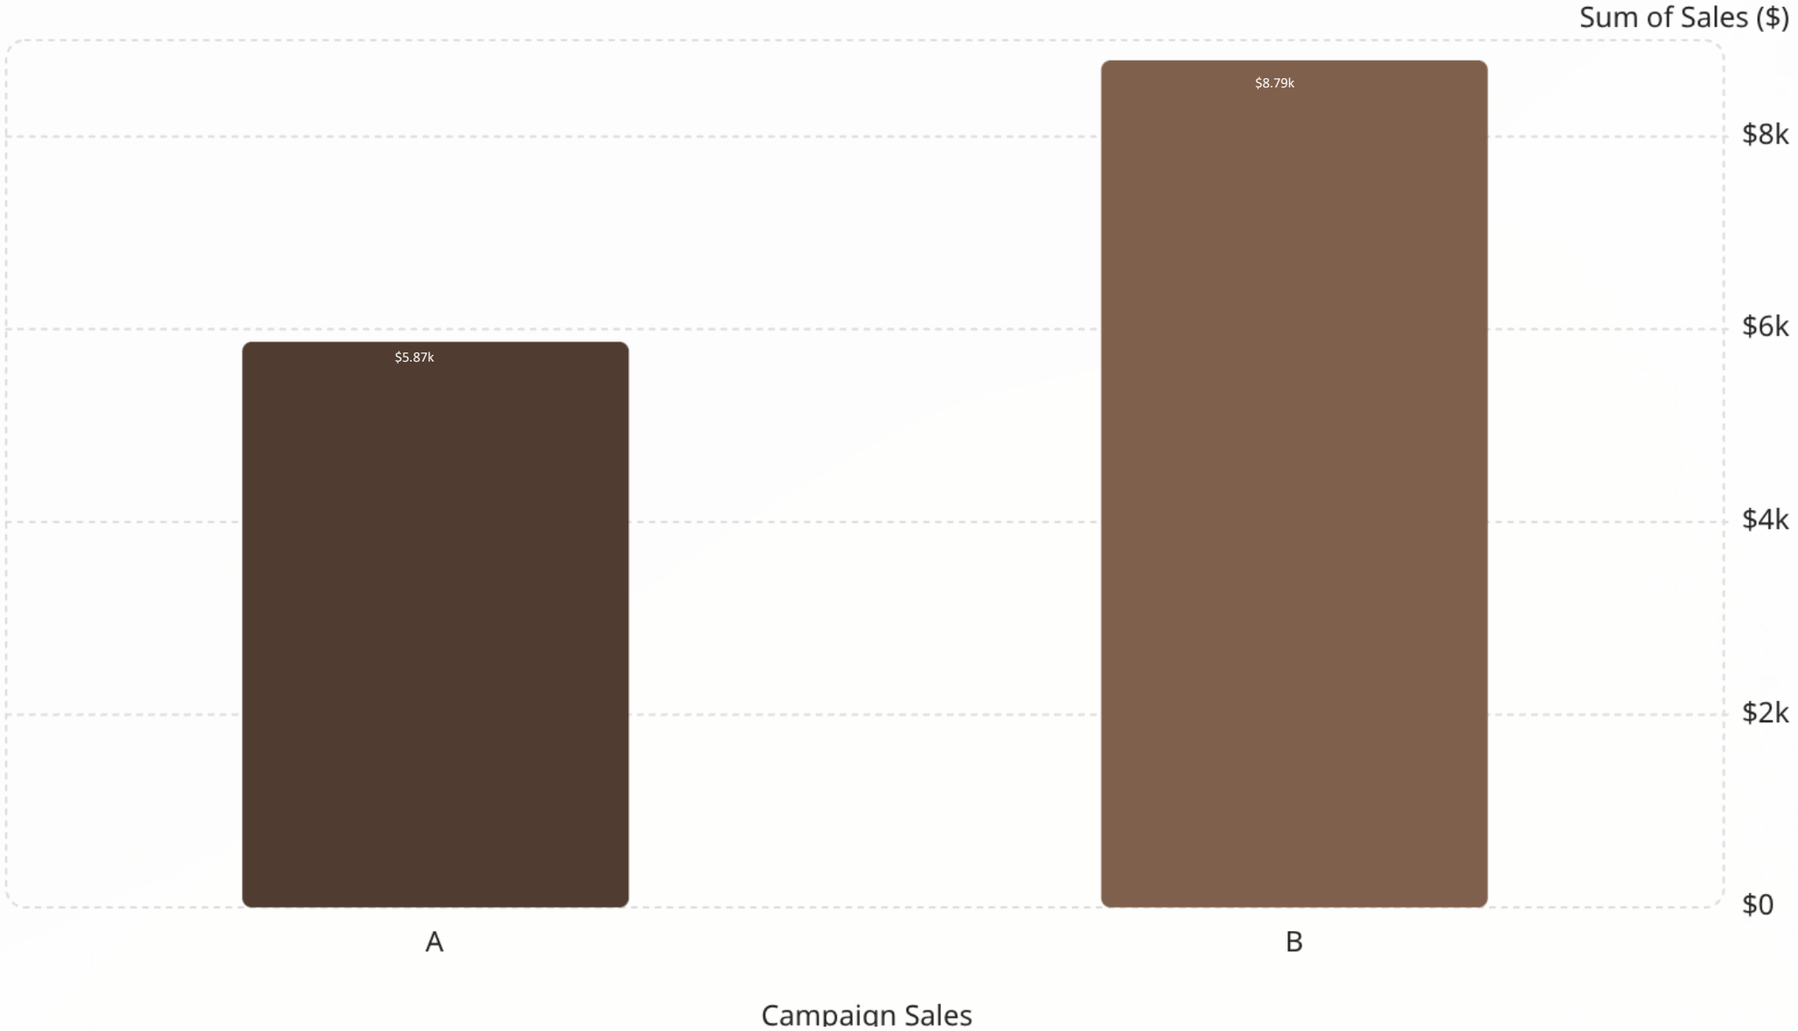
Overall Campaign A Lead

Campaign A generates higher new customer sales across all channels compared to Campaign B.

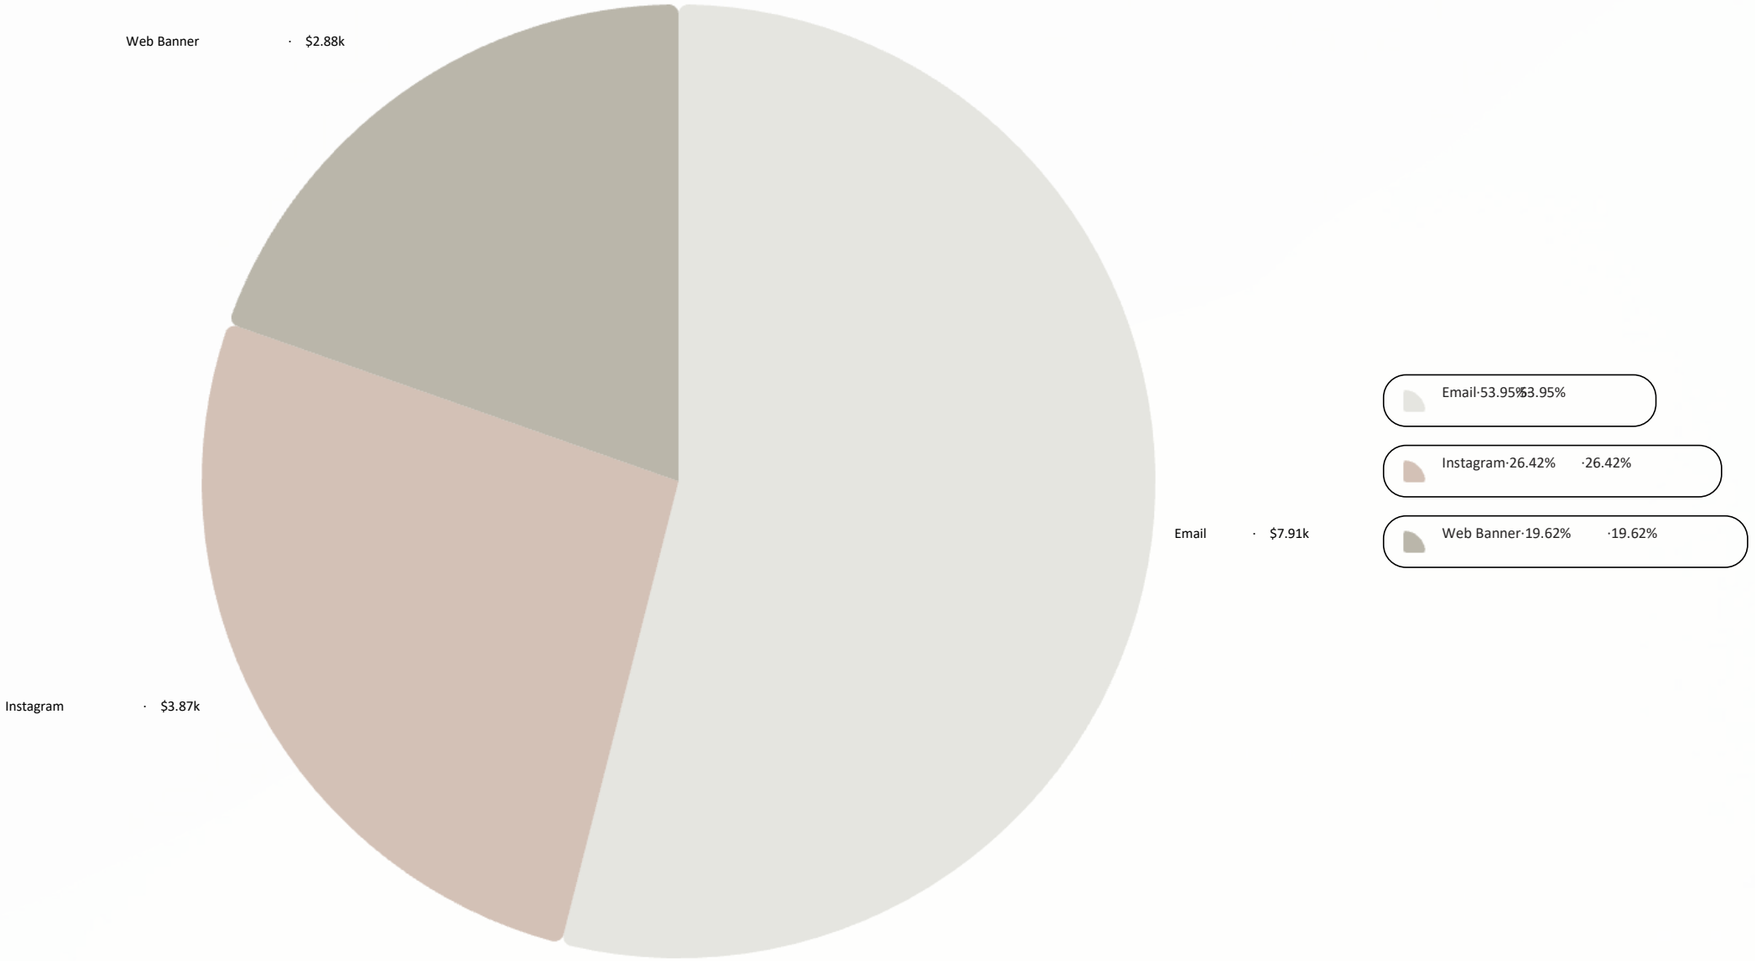
Total Sales by Campaign and Channel



Total Sales by Campaign



Total Sales by Channel



Investment Recommendation

01

Prioritize Campaign A

Shift budget allocation toward Campaign A messaging for all new customer acquisition efforts

02

Focus on Email

Allocate additional resources to Email as the primary channel for reaching new customers

03

Monitor Performance

Track new customer acquisition metrics closely and optimize Campaign A messaging based on results

Expected Outcomes

76%

Higher New Customer Sales

Compared to Campaign B baseline performance

3X

Instagram Performance

Higher new customer sales than Web Banner channel

100%

Channel Consistency

Campaign A outperforms Campaign B across all channels

Key Takeaway: While Campaign B drives higher overall revenue, Campaign A is significantly more effective in acquiring new customers. Investing in Campaign A on Email will deliver sustainable customer growth.